Exit with the Armourers man.

Now sir whats yours?let me see it,
VVhats here?
A complaint against the Duke of Suffolke for inclosing the commons of long Melford.
How now sir knaue?

1 Peti. I beseech your grace to pardon mee, I am but a messenger for the whole towne-ship

He teares the papers.

Suffolke. So now show your petition to Duke Humphrey.
Villaines get ye gone, and come not neare the Court,
Dare these pesants write against me thus?

exeunt Petitioners.

Queene. My Lord of Suffolke,you may see by this,
The Commons loues vnto that haughtie Duke,
That seekes to him more then to King Henry,
VVhose eies are alwaies poring on his booke,
And ne're regards the honour of his name,
But still must be protected like a child,
And gouerned by that ambitious Duke,
That scarce will moue his cap nor speake to vs,
And his prowd wife,high minded Elanor,
That ruffles it with such a troope of ladies,
As strangers in the Court takes her for the Queene.
The other day she vaunted to her maides,
That the very traine of her worst gowne,
Was worth more wealth then all my fathers lands,
Can any griefe of mind be like to this?
I tell thee Poole when thou didst runne at Tilt,
And stolst away our ladies hearts in France,
I thought King Henry had beene like to thee,
Or else thou hadst not brought me out of France.

Suffolk. Madame,content your selfe a little while,
As I was cause of your comming to England,
So wil I in England work your ful content:
And as for prowd Duke Humphrey and his wife,
I haue set lime-twigs that will intangle them,
